About Us

Audio-visual production services are essential to communication in a digital world. Video content is becoming the most effective marketing tool in our digital era, so it's important to get it right!

Switch Production Studios is an offshoot of Switch Television with state of the art facilities and experienced TV crew in TV production; high quality video production and editing services. Switch TV has an experienced and resourceful team that can do the job and create something that truly represents your brand and reaches the aims of the campaign.

We will help you create a shareable piece of engaging content which can be used for broadcast, website, social media or email campaigns. We will liaise with the team to deliver on shared briefs to contribute story and production ideas and oversee the production in consultation with IFRC communications team.

This will involve setting up an AV specialist-focal point to serve as the technical liaison between IFRC and Switch TV, with an ultimate aim of ensuring IFRC receives timely and quality digital communications support throughout the engagement.

We have the capacity and experience to co-ordinate quality productions with proper logistics through our vast networks locally and across Africa.
